COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces student to the basic theories and practices of legal research and writing. Course covers an overview of court systems, legal precedent and authority and how these concepts are used within various legal documents.

COURSE MATERIALS

The following materials are required.

Jessen, Edward W., California Style Manual, ISBN 0314233709

Garner, Bryan A., Legal Writing in Plain English, SBN 0226284182

Hegland, Kenny F., Introduction to the Study and Practice of Law in a Nutshell, 5th Edition
ISBN 978-0-314-19415-2

Sloan, Amy E., Basic Legal Research, Tools and Strategies, 4th Edition,
ISBN 978-0-7355-7672-8

COURSE POLICIES

Time is of the essence in this course because there are only ten meetings to cover a great deal of material.

Class attendance and participation are mandatory.

Disruptive conduct such as; cell phone use, text messaging devices and other electronic communications, as well as discussions between students are strictly prohibited during class time.

Three (3) absences or failure to turn in any one assignment results in a no pass grade and student must repeat the class in order to graduate from law school.

Refusal to or inability to participate in class because you are unprepared on three separate occasions results in a no pass grade and student must repeat the class in order to graduate from law school.

Show up late for class on two occasions and that counts as one absence.

All assignments must be typed, spell checked, proof read, stapled, paginated and are due by 6:15 p.m. on date assigned. No exceptions. No emails. Turn assignment in on paper.

All citations to authority must comport substantially with the California Style Manual or you will fail the assignment.

Electronic research of every kind is prohibited in this class. Any student who uses any form of electronic, internet, or non-hard copy research will fail the class and will be reported to the Dean's Office for academic dishonesty.

GRADING

This class is mandatory; if you fail it, you must repeat it to graduate from law school. The overall course is graded on a pass/fail basis. Individual assignments are graded on; a high pass (80 or above), pass (70-80), low pass (60-70) and no pass basis (59 or lower).

Your grades will be based on quality of writing and research, clarity of thought, and overall product. Special attention will be paid to applying the content covered during the course to your assignments. Basic spelling, grammar, punctuation and proof reading are also an essential part of your grade.
